To the Democratic Voters:

With a deep sense of my obligation, I acknowl edge my gratitude and express my sincere appreciation to those loyal friends who voted for me and supported my candidacy for Legislative Post No. 1 in the recent Democratic Preferential Primary. As Hempstead County is a large county, with varied interests to be served, I offered myself as a candidate for one of these Legislative Posts with an abiding feeling that in all fairness and justness one representative should be chosen from the North end of the county.

As Hon. Emory Thompson, who has already served one term in the Legislature, and who lives in the South end of the county and is identified with that section, will be reelected to Legislative Post No. 2, without opposition or question; I feel that the voters, when it is brought to their attention, would not in fairness and justness to all, assume to deny that the other representative should come from the North end of the Accordingly, as a lifelong citizen of Hempstead

County, and one whose every interest is identified with her welfare, I urge my friends, and appeal to every fair minded voter, to join with me in helping to elect H. W.
Timberlake to Legislative Post No. 1, that the honors, as well as the representation, of both sections of the county may be equally divided. While Mr. Timberlake, who is a native of the county has never held a public office, yet I can heartily recommend him as a man of character, ability and worth, and one whose every interest and aspiration is intimately identified with the future and welfare of Hempstead County.

Bill Fulbright - - A Review of His Campaign

- 1. He entered the campaign after the most sensational and successful record ever made by a first-year Congressman.
- 2. He entered the campaign with newspapers, magazines, and able men throughout the world acclaiming him a leader among men, a statesman of the highest type, a credit to any legislative body, and a representative of whom any
- 3. He entered the campaign determined to speak, act and promise only as he has done in office, and only as he will do in office.

What Did He Find?

A veritable avalanche of rumors, false charges, and innuendoes, spread by an opponent who has consistently followed such methods.

What Did He Do?

He never lost his balance. He never raised his voice. He never lost his confidence that the public would weigh his record and reputation with that of his opponents.

When they rumored that he was CIO-endorsed, he showed by his actual votes cast in Congress that this was a malicious rumor. CIO itself gave the facts showing it had endorsed no candidate. He is against strikes in wartime. He is for conservative labor and its program—conservative labor is for Bill Fulbright.

When they gave rumor to a false stand on the race question, it not only backfired, but the Negroes themselves showed their appreciation for Homer's action by endorsing him as their candidate.

When they questioned Bill's patriotism and draft status, the flood of letters he received from boys in battle . . . from New Guinea, from Italy, from Africa, from France . . . showed beyond a doubt that it was Bill Fullbright they wanted in the United States Senate. The opposition could produce no such praise from the boys now in the fighting line and who are demanding an intelligent, lasting peace.

When they now take a clipping from the Washington Times-Herald (consistently opposed to the war effort) and attempt to distort his viewpoint on education, they affront the educators of Arkansas, who know Bill Fulbright. They affront President Roosevelt who, in his acceptance speech, endorsed the International Educators Conference, which Bill served as Chairman. Ask the leading educators; they know.

They rumored him to be a rubber-stamp New Dealer. But he stopped that talk by showing his independent votes in Congress, as exemplified in the Smith-Connally and the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering Acts. He has voted for constructive legislation, whoever sponsored it, and for constructive legislation only.

Bill Fulbright has showed by his life's work and by all his connections that he is for private enterprise, individual initiative, fewer bureaus, and less consolidation

What Then?

He has found an appreciative public, voters who want a man to act in a campaign as he does in office.
